The lightning had flashed in her eat-

"No day ever wearled me so," And "Will an end never come to our ridet" VII. "He fought at Fort Henry," she said, "And helped to take Donelson, 100; At Shiloh be clambered o'er dying and dead,

And the folly at Corinth he knew."

VIII. "But now he is low and in pain!" Ah, wife, 'tis in vain that you hurrled; The lightning is busy again-The message has sped, "Dead and burled!"

IX. "Not at home," her children said they, "But gone to the south on the train. Let the lightning slip down on her way, And tell her ma's lower and quite out or Pain!"

We stop at a station and wait for an hour. She hears what the lightning has said; "Oh Christ, lift her up with thy power, For one is enough to be dead."

She returned on the train just at night,

There was left her but darkness and life; One sorrow fell into her heart like a blight, And one on his committee in strife. both In this country and Europe, I feel confident that I can satisfy my customers in any of the most difficult work on Obronameters. day which shows that the old spirit of the Revolution still burns in our country. A gentleman of this city, sixty-two years old, who formerly resided near Goshen, in the state of New York, has raised a family of five sons and two daughters. Three of these sons are now in the field fighting for the Union. The two daughters are married and reside here, affording a home for their widowed father, and their husbands are known as among the best business men in the city. Recently the old gentleman quietly enlisted in the volunteer service, but when he came before the board of examiners his age excluded him from the ranks. Nothing daunted; but chagrined, he proceeded to a barber-shop and had his white hair and whiskers dyed a jet black-from there to a recruiting station, where he enlisted and was sworn in-then went home and to bed, without attracting the attention of the family to his disguised appearance. Next mor ning, when his son-in law first saw him, he hardly knew him, and rallied him on his improved and youthful appearance, and inquired if he was going to enlist.' "I have collisted already," said the old man proudly; "and have been sworn in." Matters began to look serious to the son in-law. Expostulation was in vain; so the son offered to shut up business, shoulder his musket, and take the noble old mun's place in the ranks.

An incident occurred in this city on Tues-

"No!" said the parent, "I have now three sons in the war, and I am going myself; and I wouldn't back out for the best farm in Goshen!" With this determination of purpose the old gentlemen is going forth to put down his share of the rebellion, setting a glorious example to those young men who have no excuse for not enlisting, yet hang around the streets whining over the prospect of a draft. - Chicago Journal. WOULDN'T BE CONSILIATED,-The editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, of this city, attended the great war meeting at South Bend, Ind., last week. He says:" The speech of Mr. Colfax was able and eloquent. He shows that everything was offered the southern members of congresseverything, even concessions which would have prostrated the northern men in congress, but in vain. In private conversation with two leading southern representatives, they said-" If you would write your names on a blank sheet of paper, and give it to us to fill up, we wouldn't atay if Abe Lincoln is to be president." Dead and Buried.

She stepped on our train in the morning With the hurry and shuffle of fear; We had none of us heard of her warning As she slid to her seat in the rear.

A middle-aged woman, perhaps forty-dve, Yet still in her face were the traces of May; She whispered, "If only I find him alive"-And swittly the train shot away.

Have you heard of this perilous day—
Of the battles that are shaking the world— Of the hearths where none are now gay— Of the war-god's red banner unfurled? I say, have you heard of all this-

The crushing of hearts in the mighty abysa, Where the patriots are buried in line? The lightning had flashed in her ear-"I am low, very low; come and see me;" And this was the cause of the hurry and fear.

Of the clash of the Paim and the Pine-

And why "If only alive," said she. VI, "The train never trundled so slow," And "The prairies were never so wide," "No day ever wearied me so,"

And "Will an end never come to our ride?" VII. " He fought at Fort Henry," she said, "And helped to take Donelson, too; At Shiloh he clambered o'er dying and dead, And the felly at Corinth he knew,"

"But now he is low and in pain!"

Ah, wife, 'tis in vain that you burried; The Resisage has sped, "Dead and buried!" "Not at homa," her children said they,

Let the lightning slip down on her way, And tell her ma's lower and quite out of Pain! We stop at a station and wait for an hour She hears what the lightning has said;

"But gone to the south on the train;

"Oh Christ, lift her up with thy power, For one is enough to be dead." XI. She returned on the train just at night, There was left har but darkness and life; thue sorrow fell into her heart like a blight, And one on his comrades in strife. Outcmsus, Kr., 1862.

THE SPIRIT OF SEVENTY SIX REVIVED .day which shows that the old spirit of the Revolution still burns in our country. A gentleman of this city, sixty-two years old, who formerly resided near Goshen, in the state of New York, has raised a family of five sons and two daughters. Three of these sons are now in the field fighting for the Union. The two daughters are married and reside here, affording a home for their widowed father, and their husbands are known as among the best business men in the city. Recently the old gentleman quietly en listed in the volunteer service, but when he came before the board of examiners his age excluded him from the ranks. Nothing daunted, but chagrined, he proceeded to a barber shop and had his white hair and whiskers dyed a jet black—from there to a recruiting station, where he emisted and was sworn in—then went home and to bed, without attracting the attention of the family to his disguised appearance. Next mor ning, when his son in law first saw him, he hardly knew him, and rallied him on his improved and youthful appearance, and inniced if he was going to enlist. "I have solisted already," said the old man proudly; "and have been sworn in." Matters began to look serious to the son in law. Expostulation was in vain; so the son offered to shut up business, shoulder his musket, and take the noble old mon's place in the ranks.

"No!" said the parent, "I have now three sons in the war, and I am going myself; and I wouldn't back out for the best farm in Goshen!"

With this determination of purpose the old gentleman is going forth to put down his share of the rebellion, setting a glorious example to those young men who have no excuse for not enlisting, yet hang around the streets whining over the prospect of a draft.—Chicago Journal.

WOULDN'T BE CONCILIATED .- The editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, of this city, attended the great war meeting at South Bend, Ind., last week. He says: The speech of Mr. Colfax was able and eloquent. He shows that everything was offered the southern members of congress everything, even concessions which would have prostrated the northern men in congress, but in vain. In private conversation with two leading southern representatives, they said—"If you would write your names on a blank sheet of paper, and give it to us to fill up, we wouldn't stay if Abe Lincoln is to be president." Yet northern dough races-northern men with bloodless livers-call for conciliation to dear southern breth-New Arrangement!

Public opinion in England, in France, and throughout Europe generally, will then prevent the respective governments from intervening. slavery democrat; opposed, in principle respective governments from intervening, and feeling, from my youth up, to human except it be in our favor. No European government dare place itself in the attitude of a slavery protector.

If, on the contrary, we shall have left the issue as it now stand, our policy indicated only by the confiscation act, not broadly time for its cradication; opposed, with a and boldly announced, and more especially if the south, despairing of saving her vavorite institution, concedes, as the price of 1862: foreign recognition and support, a voluntary system of gradual emancipation-not at all an unlikely move-then the sympathy of public opinion throughout Europe will be with the south, and will sustain any action in her favor.

Think, too, in such an event, how false our position! How low we shall have fallen in the eyes of the world! How unenviable the place we shall occupy in history through all time. It is idle gasconade to say that, thus situated, we can defy Europe. Let the south, by conceding emancipation, secure the symditions under which, out of evil, it may pathy and the permanent services of her the thirty millions of England, the forty millions of France—and who shall say how chance for success, or for reputation, shall we have, struggling for nothing nobler than self existence, in equivocal attitude before the world, matched against opponents who shall have forestalled us and assumed the initiative of progress? While the contest assumes no higher character than that of a portion of a great nation desiring a separation from the mother country and forcibly casting off its authority, what more sympathy can we expect from Europe than we ourselves gave to Spain when she lost Mexico, or to Mexico when Texas struck for her independence? Until the issue is changed, so that the great question of human liberty becomes involved in it, we must expect from European one such war the nation may revive, its enpowers at the best only indifference; coupled, probably, with the feeling that as Mexico succeeded against Spain and Texas to say nothing of worse ruin. To save the country, then, the war must not terminate against Mexico, so will a southern confederacy finally maintain itself against us. without a sufficient guarantee against its That a declaration of emancipation was not issued a year ago, I do not regret, Great changes must mature in public opinion before they can be safely carried out. Extreme measures, to be justified and to be effectual, must often be preceded by long. tried conciliation. Yet in national emergencies it may be as dangerous to disappoint as to anticipate public opinion. And confess my fears for the result if decisive measures are longer delayed. Stand where we are we cannot; and to go on is less dangerous than to retrace our steps. We ought never to have proposed emancipation with compensation to loval slaveowners, nor declared to the disloyal, as by law we have, that their slaves shall be liberated without compensation, if we did not intend to follow out the policy we commonced. We have incurred the odium; let us reap the benefit. Nor do I perceive how we can free the slaves of rebels, yet reasonably expect to of escaping a danger. There might be im. ing intervened so far, extirpation of slavesafest also. All men in the north will not acquiesce, Neither did all acquiesce when the war was commenced; yet who that is loyal opposes it now? And what would have been the result had we waited, ere we commenced retain slavery in the border states, even in refusing the offer of the President. Hav-the war, for unanimity? Some will fall off. So be it! There is small loss in that. And there is some gain. Better an open enemy than a worthless friend. It is time that men were taking sides. As things now stand I see no use in conciliating the half loyal. He who is not for us is against us.

I think the people are ready. I believe that the loyal citizens of the north, with such small proportion of exceptions as in radical national changes must be disregarded, are to-day prepared for emancipation. They have paid for it in treasure, in blood not by their option. They feel that the sacrifices they have made, and have still to make, are too vast to have been incurred, except in purchase of a great pledge of perpetual safety and peace."

Reflecting men feel, too, that such a pledge is a national, not merely a northern necessity. The south, exhausted and suffering, needs it to the full as much as we She will soon perceive, if she does not al ready, that two parts of one nation, or even two coterminous nations, can never again exist in amity on this continent, one slave the other free. She cannot but see that fugitive-slave law difficulties, if no others existed, would auslice to prevent this.

It is not the question whether a paper declaration, easily issued, will or will not be followed by a thousand practical difficulties. The uprooting of ancient and gigantic abuse always involves such. Nor sho'd we be called upon to predict in advance (for who can entirely foresee?) how each of these will ultimately be solved. The true question is, whether greater difficulties, even insuperable ones, do not beset any other policy. Pressed home as we are, to avoid obstacles is impossible. We can but select the least formidable. The lives of the best of us are spent in choosing between erils.

When dangers surround us, we must walk, in a measure, by faith. Let us do what we can, and leave to God the issue. We may best trust to Him when we enter His path of progress. He aids those who walk in it.

I feel assured that final success awaits us in pursuing such a path. And I see no other road out of the darkness. ROBERT DALE OWEN.

account of the fight of 'Cedar Mountain,' as it calls it, in which occurs a most damaging assertion with reference to the Wisconsin Third. This we would have stricken out, but there is no use in it. It is sure to see the light from a thousand sources, and to be the subject of remark and controversy, and we may as well therefore give it as it is made, and be in readiness for the explanations and denials which are sure to lollow it. We do not believe it, nor will it be believed by any of our people, without unquestionable corroboration. The Third is one of the oldest of our regiments in the field, has had and still has the best of officers, and has been esteemed as one of the best regiments which has left the state. It has also seen service, having been with Banks on the occasion of the late raid of BAY HORSE, four years old, black mane and tall, star in foreleast, right hind foot white; One cream colored in foreleast, right hind foot white; One cream colored to the late raid of the late raid of the late raid of the late raid of the late of the late raid of the late Jackson, when it sustained itself in a manner to elicit unqualified praise. We are sure, if this story is not totally and entirely untrue, there is some explanation of it which will relieve it of its damaging features. The death of its lieutenant colonel. and a list of casualties equal to any other one regiment engaged, is abundantly sufficient to justify a suspension of opinion until the unquestionable facts can be had." The correspondent of the New York Herald, giving a detail of the battle, says: "The third Wisconsin lost its gallant Lt. Col. Crane and about 120 men, vindicating Pope's eulogium upon western men, who do not know to retreut." Col. Daniels' Regiment.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL DIS-TRICT CONVENTION.

A Republican Convention will be held in the city of Watertown, on Wednesday, Saptember 24th 1863, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to Congress from the Second Congressional District. All loval electors of the district, without regard to past political differences, who, in this hour of eral administrations in a vigorous prosecution of the war, until rebellion is crushed, traiters punished, the integrity of the Union preserved, and the supremacy of the constitution and laws enforced and respected thro'out every state and territory included within the na tional boundaries, are invited to unite with the republicans in electing delegates to this convention. Each Assembly and Senatorial district will be entitled to two delegates in said convention. W. M. GRISWOLD, B. F. HOPKINS, LETHER A. COLE. II. H. GILES. Dated August 6, 1862.

An Order of the Right Kind.

Gen. McClellan has issued an order, in response to that of the President of July 22d, concerning rebel property and persons of African descent. The concluding paragraphs are as tollows:

Since this army commenced active one rations, persons of African descent, including those held to service or labor under the state laws, have always been received, protected and employed, as laborers at wages. Hereafter it shall be the duty of the Provost Marshal General to cause the the lists to be made of all laborers of African descent employed in this army as laborers for military purposes, such lists being made sufficiently accorate and in detail to show from whom such person shall Persons so subject and so employed have alway understood that after being received into the military service of the United States, in any capacity, they could never be reclaimed by their former holders. Except upon such understanding on their part, the order of the President as to this class of persons would be inoperative. The general commanding therefore feels authorized to declare to all such employees that they will receive permanent military protection against any compulsory return to a condi tion of servitude.

THE POLICY OF EMANUIPATION WORDS OF A TRUE DEMOGRAT.

Letter from Robert Dale Owen.

To the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War: My political antecedents are known to you. Always a democrat, but never a pro-slavery democrat; opposed, in principle and feeling, from my youth up, to human slavery, but believing, until recently, that, in the interests of liberty itself, it was the of a slavery protector. part of wisdom in the north to abstain from interference with the danger fraught domesime for its cradication; opposed, with a hereditary aversion, to war. I was willing, before the sword was drawn, to make any honorable concessions that might avert its

But political convulsions bring with them great lessons and new duties. War would ot, under the divine economy, have been permitted, as in all past ages it has been, it it had not its mission. But to attain the good it brings, we must recognize its necesities.

No civil war of proportions so gigantic as that now raging ever existed in the world before. It differs from all others, both in the results sure to ensue from its protraction beyond a brief period, and in the con-ditions under which, out of evil, it may eventuate in good. In calculating these, time is an essential element.

Seven or eight hundred millions are spent. At the best, as much more is likely to go. Two thousand millions or upwards s not an improbable total. That is half the national debt of England; and the interest on it (probably at almost double the national trial and peril, will ...stain the state and fed- rate she pays) will make our annual burden nearly equal to hers. If the war lasts three years longer, these figures may be doubled. It must not last three years longer, unless we are willing to risk national bankruptcy. How is it to be terminated?

By concession? That is no longer in our power. We can buy a truce, a pause, by concession to the south-nothing more. By force of arms, then? But if by force it must be quickly done. Delay is

And it must be effectually done. After one such war the nation may revive, its energies still elastic; solvent still, and respected. A second will ruin it financially. to say nothing of worse ruin. To save the country, then, the war must not terminate without a sufficient guarantee against its resumption.

How can the war be quickly and effectually terminated? What guarantee is sufficient that it will not be resumed?

Gradually, very gradually, as this contest proceeded, have I been approaching the conviction that there is but one such guaranty: the emancipation of negro slaves throughout the continent. Perhaps-but as to this I am less certain—that measure is the only sure means of terminating, quickly and effectually, this war. The recent reverse under General McClellan, the scattered rebel fires daily bursting forth in states which our forces had already overrun, the fact that we are fighting against brave men of our own race, all increase the probability that we must deprive the south of a legal right to its four millions of laborers, before we can succeed against their masters in a reasonable time and in an effectual manner.

I am not an advocate of revolutionary short-cuts out of a difficulty. I am not in favor of violating the constitution by way of escaping a danger. There might be immediate advantage, but the precedent is replete with peril.
Could slavery have been abolished by northern action, while peace yet existed between the north and south, without a violation of the constitution? in other words without a revolutionary act? Clearly not. Can slavery be eradicated now, in war, without such violation? If emancipation be necessary to ensure the permanent peace a reasonable price for their slaves, clearly

For no principle in law is better estabsteadily adhered to." Geribaldi has issued lished than this, that when important public interests demand it, private property may be taken, at a fair appraisement for public use. The opening of a street is imter-proclamation, threatening punishment proving a city, the running of a railroad, to all those engaged in revolutionary are held in this and other civilized counschemes, and stating that he himself will tries, to be objects of sufficient importance

But of importance how utterly trivial is the opening of a street or of a railroad THE REPORTED DEFEAT IN EAST TEN-ESSEE.—The report of a loss of 3000 Un.

THE REPORTED DEFEAT IN EAST TEN-Compared to the preservation, in its integrity, of the greatest republic upon earth!

Ought we to declare general emancipa-tion, coupled with the provision for the pay-ment, to all loyal slaveholders, of the fairly appraised value of their slaves? This question resolves itself into another: Have things gone so far that the Union, in its peaceful integrity, and negro slavery within its horders, can no longer co-exist? That is the great question of the DAY. I think it must be answered even now, in the Stevenson's division in entire force. The affirmative. Every month that passes is rate and conservative and peace-loving men to the same opinion. They despair of sectional friendship or national peace, until the teeming cause of mortal hatred and civil war is rooted out for ever.

Have we the means of paying loyal slave owners a fair price for their slaves? If we set now, before a protracted contest has exhausted our resources, yes. If we wait for the termination of a three or four years' war, very certainly, no.

In that price, deportation must not be estimated. The south asserts that negro slaves are indispensable to her. That is only so far true, that she does absolutely need hired negro workmen, and ought not to be deprived of them. Her agriculture would, for a time, be ruined without them. But no good man desires a settlement un-

Nor can all her leaders be wholly blind to the fact that such change of system would advance in the end, beyond calculation, her material pros-

Suppose a declaration, to the effect that the government, urged by the necessity of self-preservation, takes at a fair valuation, the slave property of the south? Will such a declaration cause a negro insurrection and indiscriminate assassination of whites throughout the slave states? The result, so far, has clearly shown that the negro, mild and long-suffering, and often attached to his owner, is little disposed to resist, un-der an organization of his own. Once assured of freedom, he will gradually join our cause—that is all. He can then be bired as laborer or soldier, as may seem fit -payment being made for him if his master proves to be loyal, and his services being confiscated if these are due to a rebel. In all this we are clearly in our right.

Look now at the question in its foreign aspect, under the chances of European in-

If, previously to such intervention, we shall have issued a general declaration of emancipation, then we shall stand before Europe as the champions of human liberty while our enemies will be regarded as the advocates of human servitude. Public opinion in England, in France, and through out Europe generally, will then prevent the respective governments from intervening, except it be in our favor. No European

If, on the contrary, we shall have left the issue as it now stand, our policy indicated tic institution of the south, and to trust to only by the confiscation act, not broadly time for its cradication; opposed, with a and boldly announced, and more especially if the south, despairing of saving her vavorite institution, concedes, as the price of | 1862: foreign recognition and support, a volunsystem of gradual emancipation-not at all an unlikely move-then the sympathy of public opinion throughout Europe will be with the south, and will sustain any action in her favor.

Think, too, in such an event, how false our position! How low we shall have fallen in the eyes of the world! How unenviable the place we shall occupy in history through all time.

It is idle gasconade to say that, thus situated, we can defy Europe. Let the south, by conceding emancipation, secure the sympathy and the permanent services of her four millions of laborers, without action of ours; then throw into the scale against us the thirty millions of England, the forty millions of France-and who shall say how many tens of millions besides?-and what chance for success, or for reputation, shall we have, struggling for nothing nobler than self existence, in equivocal attitude before the world, matched against opponents who shall have forestalled us and assumed the initiative of progress?
While the contest assumes no higher character than that of a portion of a great nation desiring a separation from the mother country and forcibly casting off its authority, what more sympathy can we expect from Europe than we ourselves gave to Spain when she lost Mexico, or to Mexico when Texas struck for her independence? Until the issue is changed, so that the great question of human liberty becomes involved in it, we must expect from European powers at the best only indifference; coupled, probably, with the feeling that as Mexico succeeded against Spain and Texas against Mexico, so will a southern confederacy finally maintain itself against us.

That a declaration of emancipation was not issued a year ago, I do not regret, Great changes must mature in public opinion before they can be safely carried out. Extreme measures, to be justified and to be effectual, must often be preceded by longtried conciliation. Yet in national emergencies it may be as dangerous to disapoint as to anticipate public opinion. And confess my fears for the result if decisive measures are longer delayed.

Stand where we are we cannot; and to go on is less dangerous than to retrace our We ought never to have proposed steps. emancipation with compensation to loyal slaveowners, nor declared to the disloyal. as by law we have, that their slaves shall be liberated without compensation, if we did not intend to follow out the policy we commenced. We have incurred the odium; let us reap the benefit.

Nor do I perceive how we can free the slaves of rebels, yet reasonably expect to retain slavery in the border states, even in refusing the offer of the President. Having intervened so far, extirpation of slavery, the only effectual policy, becomes the

All men in the north will not acquiesce. Neither did all acquiesce when the war was commenced; yet who that is loyal opposes it now? And what would have been the result had we waited, ere we commenced the war, for unanimity?

Some will fall off. So be it! There is small loss in that. And there is some gain. Better an open enemy than a worthless friend. It is time that men were taking sides. As things now stand I see no use in conciliating the half-loyal. He who is not for us is against us.

I think the people are ready. I believe that the loyal citizens of the north, with such small proportion of exceptions as radical national changes must be disregarded, are to-day prepared for emancipation. They have paid for it in treasure, in blood : not by their option. They feel that the sacrifices they have made, and have still to make, are too vast to have been incurred, except in purchase of a great pledge of rpetual safety and peace. Reflecting men feel, too, that such a pledge is a national, not merely a northern, necessity. The south, exhausted and suffering, needs it to the full as much as we. She will soon perceive, if she does not alneeds it to the full as much as we. ready, that two parts of one nation, or even two coterminous nations, can never again exist in amity on this continent, one slave the other free. She cannot but see that fu-gitive-slave-law difficulties, if no others existed, would suffice to prevent this.

It is not the question whether a paper declaration, easily issued, will or will not be followed by a thousand practical difficulties. The uprooting of ancient and gigantic abuse always involves such. Nor sho'd we be called upon to predict in advance (for who can entirely foresee?) how each of these will ultimately be solved. true question is, whether greater difficul-ties, even insuperable ones, do not beset any other policy. Pressed home as we are, to avoid obstacles is impossible. We can but select the least formidable. The lives of the best of us are spent in choosing between evils. When dangers surround us, we must walk, in a measure, by faith. Let us do what we can, and leave to God the issue. We may best trust to Him when we enter His path of progress. He aids those who valk in it.

I feel assured that final success awaits us in pursuing such a path. And I see no other road out of the darkness.

The Wisconsin Third.

The Milwaukee Sentinel makes the following just remarks in relation to a charge that the Wisconsin third regiment failed in its duty in the recent battle with General the obvious justice of the Sentinel's com-

"We copy from the New York Times an account of the fight of 'Cedar Mountain,' as it calls it, in which occurs a most damaging essertion with reference to the Wisconsin Third. This we would have stricken out, but there is no use in it. It is sure to see the light from a thousand sources, and to be the subject of remark and controversus of the subject of remarks and controversus of the subject "We copy from the New York Times an sy, and we may as well therefore give it as it is made, and be in readiness for the explanations and denials which are sure to tollow it.

We do not believe it, nor will it be believed by any of our people, without un-questionable corroboration. The Third is one of the oldest of our regiments in the field, has had and still has the best of officers, and has been esteemed as one of the pest regiments which has left the state. It has also seen service, having been with Banks on the occasion of the late raid of Jackson, when it sustained itself in a manner to elicit unqualified praise. We are sure, if this story is not totally and entirely untrue, there is some explanation of it which will relieve it of its damaging features. The death of its lieutenant colonel, and a list of casualties equal to any other one regiment engaged, is abundantly suffi cient to justify a suspension of opinion until the unquestionable facts can be had."

The correspondent of the New York Herald, giving a detail of the battle, says: "The third Wisconsin lost its gallant Lt. Col. Crane and about 120 men, vindicating Pope's eulogium upon western men, who do not know to retreat."

The Blood is the Life.—No more shall the poor sufferers in our country languish, their constitutions racked and torn by trong and dangerous mineral medicines; they will come to the fountain of health, found in simple herbs and roots from nature's storehouse. THE MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS, of innocent mountain plants composed, will reach and stop their distress, and cause the blood, renewed and cleaned, to carry through the body the elements of health; building up the broken constitution, and carrying life and health, where but for them would have been the wreck of hop—the feeble mean of suffering, at last ended by the cold hand of death. Do not let prejudice overcome your better reason; do not look upon these Pills as only like others; do not let your despair, after trying everything else, prevent you from trying these. The blood must be pure, and then sickness is impossible. What a great and yet simple truth is this! It appeals to the common reuse of all; it is the great key-stone of the healing art. JUBSON'S MOUNTAIN IRRB PILLS will purify and cleaned it as sure as the sun will rise tomorrow.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and correctives. The public have been swindled by spurlous machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to dotheir work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great their ness, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines, Bidly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine net certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapadity of or ration, with the least labor. Machines to combine these vecential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, unit ital qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, un a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest poesible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will care wore money with less labor than any others, whether inimitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

I 8 the best Machine in the word for Family Sowing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hammer,) and beautifully ornamented, application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No.3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy in Carriago Trimming, Boot and Shoo Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and attect the largest sized dashis. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' atteching that cannot be better dune with them than by hand; so, loo, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines werk as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our letter A machines, the special attention of Vert Makers and Brees Blakers, and all those who want machines for hight Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

We manufacture on fown Needles, and would warm all persons using our machines not to but any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

There was a meeting at the court room

J. M. Haselton, for the town of Fulton, reported that Thursday morning $1200 had been subscribed for county scrip, and the day; that 31 men had sworn in as volunteers, one more than their quots; that all that town wanted, when men and money were needed in this war, was twenty-four hours notice. John R. Bennett, for Milton, reported that $1634 of the scrip had been taken, and that there were two school districts to hear from. Her proportion of money was $1740 -her quota of men, 29. She had got 17 Thomas Sleeper, for Union, reported that her share of the scrip had been taken. E. W. Stevens reported for Harmony, the additional subscription of $50 by David W. Robinson, for the town of Janesville, reported that $1400 had been subscribed to the scrip, and that her quots of men had been sworn in.

from Dr. Whiting. Mr. Dann, for Center, reported 22 men sworn in as volunteers, and $1,950 raised Col. Bardick, for town of Janesville, reported that she had furnished her quota of men, and that there were others there ready

James Sutherland subscribed $69 to the scrip, and was willing to take $500, if needed. E. G. Harlow, the recruiting officer for the 12th Wisconsin battery, gave notice that when fifty men had volunteered-the number he is to raise—there would be elected one lieutenant, one sergeant, and two corporals.

The statement was made that 47 men had enlisted from this city.

A letter was read from Thomas Holmes of Shopiere, setting forth that Turtle had raised her amount of scrip, had enlisted in a few days.

G. S. Strasberger and Wm. Macloon were ward enlisting.

J. C. Fredendall proposed to be one of our quota. Willard Merrill, for Newark, reported that the town had furnished all but two or three of her quots of men, and that she would take her share of scrip.

Mr. Shaffer offered $5 for the first volunteer who should come forward.

H. S. Woodraff reported that Mr. Welsh, of the town of Janesville, had paid $40 to one volunteer from that town, who had

On motion of Dr. Treat, it was voted that a committee of three from each ward in this city be appointed to canvass each ward for subscriptions to make up a bounty of $40 for each person who shall hereafter volunteer to make up our quota from this city. Carried.

The following persons were appointed on that committee: 1st ward-Alexander Grabam, Dr. R. B.

Treat, A. A. Jackson. 2d ward-S. C. Burnham, Cyrus Miner, James Sutherland.

3d ward-E. McKey, Almon Calkins, J. C. Fredendall.

4th ward-J. M. Haselton, James Neil, G. S. Stransberger.

Rev. R. F. Parshall, for the town of Rock reported, that $1480 had been subscribed for scrip, more than her share, eleven men had enlisted. All the men will be raised.

The following persons subscribed for the city bounty of $40 to each volunteer hereafter to enlist to fill up our quota.

C. G. Williams, C. Sexton, 25. Dr. Whitney, 25. Z. S. Doty, 25. J. A. Tice, 10. Almon Calkins, James M. Burgess, 25.

On motion of C. G. Williams it was voted that a bounty of $40 be offered to each person who shall hereafter volunteer from this city to make up the quota of this city.

K. W. Bemis, for the town of Plymouth reported, twenty men sworn in, full share of scrip taken and nearly enough raied to pay $40 to each volunteer to fill her quota. The meeting was addressed by C. G. Williams, Dr. Treat, James Sutherland and Almon Calkins.

Almon Calkius offered a city lot worth $100 for any one who would volunteer from Meeting adjourned to this Saturday even-

Excursion to Chicago.

We call the attention of our readers to the great excursion to Chicago on Tuesday next, August 19th, as announced by the committee's card in another column.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate a large number of persons who nray wish to visit the metropolis of the northwest at this time, by paying the mere nominal fare of one dollar for the round trip, being but one-sixth of the usual fare. We understand the committee will use every exertion to render the trip pleasant to all, and in so large a crowd there will be many who will have music in their souls, and a good time is confidently expected.

The train will leave the Northwestern depot at 7 o'clock a. m., arrive in Chicago at 11 o'clock, giving the excursionists half a day to go where they please about the city, and returning will leave Chicago at 7.30 p. m. for a moonlight ride "homeward bound," over the prairies.

This is a golden opportunity, and requires but little of the needful. Ho! for Chicago!!

To the Young Men of the City of Janesville.

The undersigned has been appointed by the Governor of this state a recruiting officer for the 12th Wisconsin Battery of Artillery, and will receive recruits at G. R. Curtis' drug store, to the extent of 50 men, balance of their share would be taken that until the 22d inst. All bounties from the state, county, city and general government will cease at that time.

> A commission as 1st lieutenant has been tendered me in this battery by the governor, but as this commission was unexpected and unsolicited, it will not be accepted antil the battery is full and confirmed by a vote of the company,

> The artillery service is the most important, and most popular branch of the service, and if the young men of this city wish to unite with their comrads and go to war in a body you now have a chance.

> There is no fatigue (picket) duty in this arm of the service, and no "hoofing" to endure. Every man is provided with a casson, limber, gun, or horse to ride upon.

This is the last opportunity given to enlist in the artillery, as all Wisconsin batteries are full and no more can be accept-S. C. Burnham reported for 2d ward of ed. This morning they go hence to Janesville, to enter the company of Messrs. Wemple and Scott, which is rapidly filling up.

> All honor to these brave men, and to those who render them pecuniary assistauce, and wish them God-speed!

FIREMEN IN THE CITY. -At a meeting of the board of trustees of the fire department last evening, returns of the present active members of all the fire companies in this city was made. The total number returned is 126. Of this number it is probable that at least 26 are exempt from draft by age or some disability, which would leave exempt, by reason of their membership in the department, not to exceed 100 men. Several of those returned, moreover, are now enrolled as volunteers,

The Blood is the Life.—No more shall the poor sufforers in our country languish, their constitutions racked and form by trong and dangerous mineral medicines; they will come to the fountain of health, found in simple herbs and roots from nature's storehouse. THE MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS, of innocent mountain plants composed, will reach and stop their distress, and cause the blood, remewed and cleaused, to carry through the body the elements of health; Unliditag up the broken constitution, and carrying life and health, where but for them would have been the wreck of hops—the feeble mean of suffering, at last ended by the cold hund of death. Do not let prejudice overcome your botter reason; do not look upon these Pills as only like others; do not let your daspair, after trying everything else, prevent you from trying these. The blood must be pure, and then sickness is impossible. What a great and yet simple truth is this: it appeals to the common sense of all; it is the great key-stone of the healing art. SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly Flecluced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly

Flectuced to $7 Singer's Letter A Machine,

S the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented, FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes. Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy in Carriage Trimning, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmera' stitching that cannot be butter done with them thas by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inch salung, and the shuttle will hold six times the usural quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small once.

LEATHER WORK,

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manutacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Specie, Best 4 Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc. We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our outstomers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefiting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the Iron easting to the smallest piece, is of peon quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive mannfacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to coronisderable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be locked for in a machine arc: errainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and repudity of operation, with the itest labor. Machines to combine these ceenial qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perform the weak when the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but least long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will carn warm money with less labor than any cheers, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machines as a gift. out of Rats, Mics, Ronches, and Bed-Bags, quicker than ally in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tens of this Rat and Insect Killer.—[Lancaster [Wis.] tions rapidly.
